

Visit the Oregon Caves

Deep within the Siskiyou Mountains are dark, twisting passages that await your discovery. Eons of acidic water seeping into marble rock created and decorated the wondrous "Marble Halls of Oregon." Join a tour, get a taste of what caving is all about, and explore a mountain from the inside and out.

The National Park Service offers four unique cave tours: Discovery, Candlelight, Kids & Family and Off-Trail.

Please be aware that the cave tour is physically demanding. It requires the ability to walk and stoop through narrow, twisting passages, including an 88-foot (27m) passageway with ceilings as low as 45 inches (114 cm), and the ability to ascend and descend over 500 steps, many of them steep, uneven and/or without handrails.

Reservations up to one day ahead of visit: www.recreation.gov
Same Day tickets available at park

Accessibility

Watson's Grotto, the first room of the cave is accessible to visitors using wheelchairs, walkers, scooters, and similar devices. However, the cave beyond is physically too narrow to accommodate these devices. Rangers are happy to accompany people with wheelchairs and walking devices into Watson's Grotto.

All Country House Inns are ADA Accessible, however according to feedback that BEST Country House Inns properties for people with mobility disabilities are Riverside Inn in Grants Pass, Wine Country Inn in Jacksonville and Wildlife Inn in Winston.

What you need to know

Dress accordingly! The temperature inside the caves is always around 44°F, regardless of the weather outside the caves. In summer, be sure to pack a sweatshirt!

Bring a picnic! The caves are about 40 minutes away from the nearest food source in Cave Junction. We recommend stopping at Taylor's Sausage in Cave Junction for an excellent picnic lunch!

Download your directions! You will be out of cellular range for much of the drive. GPS may be spotty or unreliable. While the drive is well signed, you'll want to print out or download your maps.

Drive Time: 2.5 Hours + Stops 3.5 hours = Total 6 Hours
